Enterprise Solutions

Routing, Switching and Security

Whether it is designing a large infrastructure or a small office, Rocktech's expertise in network designing, implementation, service and support is exemplary and provides flexible solutions to all clients. Our specialist workforce is able to provide multivendor design, deployment and support on network equipment on traditional, cloud and virtualized infrastructure environment. Supported by leading network technology, we simplify, streamline and optimize your data center network to lower your CAPEX and OPEX without compromising on performance.

In addition to setting up the network, our teams of qualified engineers are able to secure your network, wired and wireless, through state-of-the-art network security appliances. Some of our solutions include UTM, DLP, IPS and NextGen firewalls. Our solutions ensure that your data is secured from both internal and external threats to provide unparalleled security for your organization.

IP Telephony

Today, business telephony extends far beyond the traditional desk phone. It enables unified communications, digital collaboration, mobility, and even video. As communications become increasingly blended, IP telephony is now at the core of the UC & C landscape. Next-generation telephony solutions need to:

- Provide real-time voice, video and conferencing across the enterprise network
- Integrate with collaboration tools such as instant messaging, email and desktop sharing
- Pass conversations seamlessly between fixed and mobile devices
- Function based on network-integrated system management
- Deliver a higher ROI than ever before.
